

EDITOR'S NOTE

We started 2018 with three very important news for REMEF

1. CONACYT

In the last evaluation of 2017, we have made progress on the Classification System of Mexican Science and Technology Journals of CONACYT, being distinguished as a NATIONAL CONTEST JOURNAL.

The sustained improvements that have been made to the management and visibility of the journal are an acknowledgement to the community of authors and judges of REMEF, as well as to the work of the Editorial Board.

2. DOI

All the articles, both from the First Era and New Era, have the DOI (Digital Object Identifier) feature, thus ensuring that they will be always available on the network. Citing the articles is also facilitated, as well as interoperability with other repositories and search engines, thus increasing its visibility.

3. Editorial management

Finally, the Open Journal System (OJS) editing manager is now fully operational.

The year 2018 will be very important for our journal: we will expand the space so that more articles are disseminated, and we will increase the national and international visibility of the same. The REMEF will continue to grow as a point of reference for economic and financial scientific publications.
